

Explanation of Torrents

Torrent File is a file that contains lists of files that can be download from a device like a harddisk, server, or even a usb stick.

There is tracker which acts as a intermediate between torrent file and devices which stores files to be downloaded from device.

Torrent file also contains lists of trackers which which maintain the link between torrent files and data storage devices.

Example of softwares to create torrent files are utorrent and bittorrent.